Peer Exchanges

The Colorado Resiliency Office facilitates opportunities for local government leaders and staff to exchange, collaborate, and learn from their peers. Currently, there is a Wildfire Recovery Peer Exchange and COVID Recovery Local Government Peer Exchange.

Language Access

Ensuring that people who are impacted by an event are able to access information in their language is important to ensuring recovery happens quickly. A Boulder County best practice is hiring an interpreter to help ensure information is available in English and Spanish throughout the recovery.

DHSEM's Access and Functional Needs (AFN) Program can help support local governments in building capacity for language inclusion through training programs, guidance, and resource requests.
